

THE ELKTON PRESS.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED WEEKLY, BY ANDREWS AND ACCORD, ELKTON, Cecil County, MARYLAND.
Obedience to the People's Voice.

Saturday, November 15, 1823.

No. 19.

CONDITIONS:

Year 82 00
Months 1 00
Half-yearly, in advance.
Subscription received for a term of six months, not returned, until all arrears are paid in all cases, a failure to do so, will be considered a discontinuance, and a new engagement.
Advertisements
For a square, will be considered, inserted, thirty times for one dollar, and twenty-five cents for subsequent insertions. For longer or shorter, in proportion.

Philp Almanac.

MEMBER.	Sun rises.	Sun sets.
Monday	5 43	4 53
Tuesday	6 44	4 54
Wednesday	7 45	4 55
Thursday	8 46	4 56
Friday	9 47	4 57
Saturday	10 48	4 58
Sunday	11 49	4 59

PAID EXCHANGE.

Corrected Weekly.

Per cent. dis.

NEW YORK.

Bank city banks

Market's bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

Bank

For Rent.

THE FERRY HOUSE.
At Chesapeake, opposite Havre de Grace on the Susquehanna, to let on the right of a Team Boat. Possession to be given on the 25th of March next. Should possession be wanted sooner, arrangement may be made with Major W. H. Richardson.

THE BRICK HOUSE.
Opposite to Mr. Peacock's shop, occupied by Mr. Yates is also for rent from the 25th March. Apply as above.

Elkton, Nov. 1 17-11

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a writ of vendition exponas, issued from the Court of Appeals of the Eastern Shore of Md. and directed, will be exposed to public sale, on Saturday the 22d day of November instant, in Back Creek hundred, 420 acres of LAND.

the property of Thomas Buddie, and will be sold to satisfy a debt due Thomas Jones, by

FRANCIS GILLESPIE, Sheriff.

Oct. 31. 17-11

$10 Reward.

STRAYED away on the 19th inst. from the pasture of Mr. Henry Hollingsworth, in Elkton,

 2 Mares:

One a Heabitten grey, about 14 months high, the left ear split; she is in very good order—the other black, with a faint star in her forehead, heavy built, about fourteen and a half hands high.

The above reward will be paid on the delivery of the mares to Mr. Henry Hollingsworth, with reasonable charges, on $5 for either of them.

JOHN MILLYN, Of Chester, Pa.

Nov. 1. 17-11

Land, Mill Seat, and a Store House in Elkton.

At Public Sale.

WILL be offered at public sale (if not previously disposed of) on Saturday the 15th day of November next, at the house of Mr. Rowland Ellis, in Elkton, the following property, viz:

NO. I.

A FARM

In West Nottingham, in Cecil county, within 2 miles of the Brack Meeting House, and 7 miles of Elkton, containing 155 acres, 40 of which are woodland. On this land there is a fall of water of 70 feet on a never failing stream—the country is very healthy and is admirably calculated for the erection of extensive water works. This land lies within 4 miles of navigation, and will be sold for the one fourth cash and the balance on a credit of 6, 12 and 18 months.

NO. II.

A LOT

In Charlestown, eligibly situated in that flourishing village.

NO. III.

THE STORE HOUSE AND LOT OF GROUND.

In Elkton, now occupied by the Rev. Mr. Sharply. The building which is of brick, is two stories high, was expressly erected for a dry good and grocery store—is 60 by 35 feet; one part is occupied as a granary and grocery store, and the other for dry goods—a brick wall dividing. It is one of the best stands in the town, situated on the corner near the Market House. The lot is 87 feet by 197 feet deep.

Sale will commence 3 o'clock, P. M. Terms at sale.

JOSEPH G. PARTRIDGE, Baltimore, Oct. 25 16-10

Was Lost

ON Monday the 6th inst. in Elkton, or on the road between Elkton and Cape Richey's mill,

A double cased Silver Watch.

Made by A. Cameron, Liverpool No. 3585. The person finding said watch, and returning it to the office of the Elkton Press, will be liberally rewarded by the owner.

Watchmakers are requested to secure the said watch, if it comes into their possession for repair, and send it on above.

Oct. 11 15-11

Job Printing

Of every description neatly and expeditiously executed

At THE ELKTON PRESS OFFICE.

New Fall Goods

THE subscribers have just received from Philadelphia and Baltimore, a general assortment of

SEASONABLE

GOODS.

Among which are: London Superior Cloth, Common do, Superfine Cassimere, Common do, Cassimere, Ross Blankets, Port do, white Flannels, Red do, Yellow do, Red Pickings, Green do, Bouzarettes, Bombazettes, Men's Stockings, Ladies do, Children's do, Cravats, Plaid do, Guernsey Frocks, Calicoes, Ginghams, Domestic Plaid, Cottons, Swiss, Ribbon, Vest Patterns, Vests, Corals, Colored Muslin, Italian Capes, Check, India Muslin, Domestic broad cloth and unbleached do, Cambricks do, Book do, Leno do, Jaconets do, Book do, Handkerchiefs, Jaconets do, Madras do, Flap do, Plaid do, Hosiery, Shawls, Gloves, assorted, Pins, Laces, Cotton Buds, Hank Cotton, &c.

&c. &c. with a general assortment of groceries, Hard, H. Tow, Cedar, China, &c. Queens ware, Men's Shoes, Family and other Medicines, all of which will be sold at very reduced prices for Cash or Country Produce.

Those desiring to purchase will please call at our place for estimates.

ROCHESTER & HOWARD, Elkton, Oct. 25 16-11

Valuable Property

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers at private sale, on the premises, in Octoraro hundred, Cecil county, Md. all the following described property, to wit:

ONE TRACT OF LAND,

adjoining lands of John Conrad, Elizabeth Wacker, Mrs. Grubb and others, containing about 150 acres, more or less, on which is erected two good

TELENT HOUSES.

One half of this tract is covered with excellent wheat, and the other half is in corn. There is on this property an excellent peach orchard, and some excellent soil for water works, situated on the Octoraro creek, and a stream passes through and by the tract.

The above property is situated in a rich, healthy and pleasant neighborhood, half a mile from the Conowingo Bridge, and the Susquehanna Canal, one mile from Baltimore ferry, and one mile from the Catholic Church. Also, situate in said hundred, adjoining lands of Wm. Preston, Joshua Lowe and others, containing about 55 acres, more or less, on which is erected one good with a Barn, Stables, &c. There are on this farm upwards of 100 grafted apple trees, a variety of thriving peach trees. One half of this farm is covered with heavy timber of the first quality.

ONE TRACT OF LAND,

DWELLING HOUSE,

This property is also situated in a healthy neighborhood, half a mile from the Friends meeting house, three miles from the Conowingo Bridge, eight miles from Port Deposit, and convenient to 2 merchant mills. The contemplated road from the aforesaid bridge to New London Roads passes through this farm.

If the above properties are not sold previous to the first Monday in March next, they will, on that day, be sold at public sale.

Terms will be made known on application to Jas. C. McDowell, Esq. residing on the former described property, or to the subscriber residing on the latter.

ANDREW R. PORTER, Oct. 25 16-10

The editor of the "Village Register," West Chester, Pa. will insert foregoing advertisement 5 times and forward his account for collection.

Sheriff's Sale.

JAMES SALISBURY

BEGS leave to inform his friends, and the public generally, that he is induced, from the suggestions of a number of his friends, to declare himself a candidate for the office of Sheriff.

At the next ensuing election. Consent of his abilities to execute the duties of the office, he respectfully invites and solicits the suffrages of the voters of Kent county.

Nov. 1. 17-11

Jefferson Glenn,

STATIONERY AT LAW,

OFFERS his professional services to the people of Cecil county. His office is in Elkton, two doors west of Mr. Hannon's tavern, where he will always be found during office hours.

Oct. 4 14-11

DISTILLERY

For Sale.

THE subscriber offers at private sale, a Distillery consisting of two STILLs, one of the capacity of 144 and the other of the capacity of 66 gallons, together with the necessary apparatus, and 100 HOGSHEADS.

For terms apply to James Andrews, Esq. Calverton township, Lancaster county, Pa. or to the owner, in Elkton.

JOHN M'CORD, Sept. 27. 13-11

Cheap Goods.

THE subscriber, grateful for the unparalleled support he has met with in his line of business, takes this method of informing his friends, and the public generally, that he has on hand, and intends keeping a general assortment of

Drp Goods

AND GROCERIES:

CHINA, GLASS, QUEENS AND HOLLOW WARE;

LIQUORS

OF THE BEST QUALITY.

Men's & boys' Water Proof Hats, men's and boys' Wool Hats,

MEN'S, WOMEN'S & CHILDREN'S

SHOES,

Patent Medicines.

suitable for the fall diseases, &c. &c. all of which he intends selling at reduced prices for Cash or Country Produce.

Persons wishing to purchase will please call and examine for themselves—and by so doing they will much oblige their humble servant.

WILLIAM WINGATE, North East, Oct. 11. 13-11

VALUABLE

LANDS MILLS

FOR SALE.

THE subscribers offer at private sale, a very Valuable Plantation, situate in Octoraro hundred, Cecil county, Maryland, containing 200 acres, with a

GIST & MERCHANT

MILL,

thereon erected (long known by the name of Porter's mill), on that never failing stream, Octoraro.

There are on this property a number of excellent seats for water-works or a tributary stream which passes through the farm. The land is naturally productive, and the fields may be watered at a small expense.

The above property is situated in a rich, healthy and pleasant neighborhood, 2 miles from the Susquehanna canal, 6 from the tide water at Port Deposit, 40 from Baltimore, and 30 from Wilmington.

For further particulars, apply to the owners, on the premises.

JOHN H. HARLAN, M. A. HARLAN, Sept. 6. 10-11

$10 Reward.

WAS stolen from the pasture of the subscriber, in Appoquinimink hundred, New Castle county, Del. on the night of the 1st inst. a black about twelve and a half hands high, with a star in his forehead, has a white mark on his wither occasioned by the saddle, and a scar on his right shoulder. He is a natural trotter.

HORSE,

The above reward will be paid to any person giving information of the said horse, so that the owner may get him again, and all reasonable expenses paid if brought home.

REUBEN H. PRIMROSE.

Lumber Yard.

THE subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public in general, that he has on hand

100,000 FEET WHITE PINE

BOARDS,

200,000 Shingles,

AND A QUANTITY OF

Art Plants.

All of which he will sell at a moderate price, for cash.

ELKTON, July 6. 13-11

Candle Manufacturer.

THE subscriber is beg leave to inform their friends, and the public generally, that they have commenced the manufacture of at their store (two doors above Mr. Con. Peacock's Inn), where Merchants and Families can be supplied by the box, at city prices.

CANDLES

VIRTUE & HODGKINS, O. C. G. 1823. Elkton, Maryland.

P. S. The highest market price will be given for re-refined tallow.

Valuable Property

FOR SALE.

THE subscribers offer at private sale, on the premises, at and near Rock Run, and adjoining Port Deposit, in Cecil county, Maryland, all the following described valuable and celebrated Property, viz:

NO. 1.

Containing 14 acres, immediately at Rock Run, whereon Samuel Kerr now resides, on which is erected a commodious and comfortable

Dwelling House,

and stone barn and stables, and a large fish shed and FISHERY thereto belonging, and other necessary out houses, &c.

NO. 2.

The undivided half part of an ISLAND, in the river Susquehanna, near Octoraro on which there are 2 good FISHERIES.

NO. 3.

ONE ISLAND,

in said river, near Rock Run, containing 60 acres, over which the Port Deposit bridge passes, on which is erected a blacksmith shop; and one good FISHERY thereto belonging. It was the opinion of the late Mr. Burr, that two excellent seats for Mills or Factories might be had on this island.

FIVE DWELLING

HOUSES

NO. 4.

ONE ISLAND, immediately below the above, and nearly adjoining, containing 30 acres.

NO. 5.

One Tract of Land, adjoining lands of John Patterson, Esq. and others, containing 84 acres, on which is erected stables, &c. One third of this farm is covered with heavy timber of the first quality.

TWO GOOD DWELLING

HOUSES,

NO. 6.

One Lot of Ground, in the town of Port Deposit, with two good

DWELLING HOUSES,

one of which has been occupied by Mr. David White for a number of years as a public house, and other out houses erected thereon, and is situated on the corner where the turnpike road takes off from the bridge to Elkton, which makes it a valuable stand for that business.

NO. 7.

One Fishery,

about one mile below Octoraro, and near Mrs. M'Elarrys.

NO. 8.

Two thirds of that celebrated and well known FISHERY, called The Barr, the patent of which covers 100 acres, and is now making very fast.

The above lands are well known to be of the best quality in the county, and as for good situation, it is evident from this being on near tide, and so immediately in and on the great Susquehanna, that their advantage is inferior to none in the state.

If the above properties are not sold previous to Thursday the 28th day of November next, they will on that day be sold at public sale.

Terms will be made known on application to

SAMUEL KERR, ROBERT KERR, Sept. 12. 13-11

Blanks for sale.

Elkhorn Press.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1883.

THE CITIZEN'S
Office and its city, who are desirous of forming a SINGING SOCIETY are requested to meet at the Academy, on Monday evening next at 7 o'clock, for that purpose.

TO CORRESPONDENTS. We are sorry that any of our correspondents should think it partial by not publishing their communications. Our friends, Black Dwarf, ought to know that his first essays were so personal that he could not reasonably expect them to appear in our columns, and he is at "Paradise" as far from decency, that we can scarce believe the author serious when he requests instructions but he will change it into a decent form we not only promise it but we will receive an immediate solution.

"The Stronger" next week.
FRANCE AND SPAIN. By referring to our foreign extracts in the succeeding columns, it will be seen that between those contending nations, the scales are tipped in favor of France. Can we surrender, and do we intend to do so? The Constitution is a sacred thing, and the efforts of Spain for liberty are defeated, and the hopes of success have ceased, and she must submit to a monarchical government.

THE PRESIDENT. A meeting was held at the County Court House in Philadelphia on the 11th inst. in compliance to previous notice given of the citizens of the city and county of Philadelphia favorable to General Andrew Jackson, for the Presidency. An able and lengthy preamble and number of appropriate resolutions were unanimously adopted, from which we select the following:

Resolved. That this meeting pledges its aid and support to the efforts of the nation of G. N. ANDREW JACKSON to win the Presidency of the United States.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

Resolved. That this meeting do earnestly recommend to the Friends of Jackson throughout the state, to hold meetings to organize their strength in the several districts, thus taking a firm stand in defense of their Country, the Constitution, and the glorious principles of Liberty.

lected by begging—it is at intervals, from respectable individuals, who have been upon the public.

Along the coast.—The recent purchasers of land in the Michigan Territory, a number of the Society of Friends, and a number of the class of Christians ever in the territory, delivered a discourse in the Council House at Detroit, on the 2d inst. The emigration of Friends to Michigan is hailed as an auspicious circumstance, as their example of industry and economy, and a peaceful and good life, will be of essential benefit.

A Friend's impudence.—About six weeks ago the store of Capt. Kingsburg at No. 260 in the Bowers, was robbed of various articles of merchandise. Last week it was entered again in the night season and on the back of a letter directed to Captain Kingsburg, the following message was written and left by the robber:

"The Devil's compliments to the captain, and informs him that he has taken nothing this time except a jug of brandy, two silver spoons, and a pair of silver candlesticks, but the next time, he will take the captain himself."—V. E. Fisher.

Shocking Suicide.—On the morning of the 11th inst. Mrs. Elizabeth E. E. of Gates County, N. C. rose about the dawn of day, and after consuming a few words with her father, Mr. Robert E. E. at whose house she was on a visit, she stepped into a room where several of the family were sleeping, and in an instant the report was heard of a gun firing. The alarm drawn the family to the door, and a few steps of which her body was discovered, lying in blood.

Shocking Suicide.—On the morning of the 11th inst. Mrs. Elizabeth E. E. of Gates County, N. C. rose about the dawn of day, and after consuming a few words with her father, Mr. Robert E. E. at whose house she was on a visit, she stepped into a room where several of the family were sleeping, and in an instant the report was heard of a gun firing. The alarm drawn the family to the door, and a few steps of which her body was discovered, lying in blood.

A delicate and serious question.—A few years since, in the May's's Court of New York, Dr. W. W. Clinton presided, and a question was decided after a long and elaborate discussion, that a Roman Catholic Priest should not be compelled, as a witness to reveal disclosures made to him by a parishioner under confession. Mr. Clinton gave great satisfaction to the friends of religious toleration and liberty of sentiment. Facts disclosed in confession, when not peculiarly dangerous to the public safety, are supposed to be protected by hope and fear, and reliance on the secrecy of the sacerdotal office, or as the secrets of a client entrusted to an attorney, which ought not, as ordinary confessions, to be used against the party making them.

A different doctrine, however in regard to Protestants, has lately been declared in Ireland, at the Wexford Assizes, where the Rev. Mr. Morgan, of the established church, after consulting the bishop of his diocese, refused to answer or disclose matters communicated to him on the death-bed of a person whom he attended in his last moments. The Justice, having obtained the opinion of the Chief Justice, decided that no privilege or obligation of secrecy existed in the case. The witness persisting in his refusal, the party who caused the case to be tried, lost his suit, but so many measures were taken against the clergyman by the court.

From the Shanawater (Ill.) Gazette, Oct. 11.
The Circuit Court for the county of Madison, commenced its session here on the 1st inst. and owing to the first week being principally taken up in the trial of criminals, the Court did not adjourn till Tuesday. Among the criminal cases, there were two for the crime of murder. John Darr, indicted for the murder of Wm. Thompson, was found guilty, upon pretty clear testimony, of wilful murder, and sentenced to be hung on Wednesday the 8th inst. But on the evening of the 5th, September, availing himself of a little respite from his guard, which had been detailed to keep him in custody, he snatched his hands and made his escape, and has not since been heard of. The other was the case of Jordan Lacy, who was charged with the murder of John Stinson. He was found guilty of manslaughter, and sentenced by the court to one year's imprisonment in the jail in this county, and to pay a fine of $500.

Since writing the above, we have learned that Lacy has made his escape. He got out of jail the next night that Darr broke from his guard in place. A brother had come to see him, and had been about a day or two, that evening, a little after dark, he came to the jailer, and told him that Lacy carried some water, and went with him to the jail. As soon as the jailer had unlocked the door, Lacy came stepping behind him, seized his arms, and held him until the prisoner came out and got a pretty good start.

An Imposter.—The Hartford (Conn.) Mercury contains the public account of the imposture of a transient person, by the name of Levi Hayden, who pretends to be a doctor, and to have been a member of the great imposture, and is also disbeliever. He has property of from 12 to 15 dollars, part of it left to him by his father, and a considerable part of it collected by begging.

An Imposter.—The Hartford (Conn.) Mercury contains the public account of the imposture of a transient person, by the name of Levi Hayden, who pretends to be a doctor, and to have been a member of the great imposture, and is also disbeliever. He has property of from 12 to 15 dollars, part of it left to him by his father, and a considerable part of it collected by begging.

An Imposter.—The Hartford (Conn.) Mercury contains the public account of the imposture of a transient person, by the name of Levi Hayden, who pretends to be a doctor, and to have been a member of the great imposture, and is also disbeliever. He has property of from 12 to 15 dollars, part of it left to him by his father, and a considerable part of it collected by begging.

when he quit his job, and followed him. A few days after, they were heard of, crossing the Wabash together, making their way either into Indiana or Kentucky; most likely the latter, as he formerly lived in Warren county in that state.

New law but good logic.—In the trial of a prisoner upon an indictment for an assault in one of the middle states, the allegation was, that the assault was committed upon the defendant in the fear of God and the peace of this state. In the verdict the jury said: That as this was the allegation, and whereas the offense occurred, (as proved on the trial) at a notorious house of ill fame, where the fear of God is not known, the peace of the state regarded, therefore, the jury could not find the indictment true, as laid and the acquitted the prisoner. —Hampden Journal.

A Convention consisting of about 200 Delegates from the states of Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and the District of Columbia, was held at the city of Washington, for the purpose of devising measures to form a confederation of the Atlantic and Western waters, by a canal from the Metropolis to the river Ohio. The delegates are determined that this important work will be accomplished.

The editor of the Georgetown Metropolitan of the 11th inst. thus speaks of the late Canada Convention: "On Saturday afternoon last, the meeting of the Delegates on the numerous business of the Convention, and the safety may be affirmed, that the memorable Congress of 1867, has then been more interesting and profitable than any other of the kind."

The careful acquiescence of gentlemen who were opposed to the measure, were not to be counted on. The Convention was held at the city of Washington, for the purpose of devising measures to form a confederation of the Atlantic and Western waters, by a canal from the Metropolis to the river Ohio. The delegates are determined that this important work will be accomplished.

The new members of the world were lately exhibited at Washington city, in a Museum of natural curiosities. 1st. A widow, who, at the age of 60, refused the offer of marriage. 2d. A dandy with only five cravats on his neck. 3d. A contested old maid. 4th. A lawyer of integrity. 5th. A moderate doctor's bill. 6th. A tailor who was never known to change. 7th. An congressman who wished to adjourn the session when there were money in the treasury.

Foreign.

Surrender of Cadix.—The Brig Mary E. J. Carr, Capt. Gray, which arrived yesterday, left Gibraltar on the 4th inst. and Capt. G. informs that a boat arrived from Cadix the evening previous, with an account of the surrender of that city to the French on the 29th of Sept. and that the King and his family passed to St. Mary's the same day. Two French frigates arrived at Gibraltar on the 30th Oct. Business had been dull, but the new events were expected to revive it. The frigates were from the squadron off Cadix, the blockade being raised. They sailed for Algiers. It was said Cadix capitulated after the fall of the Castle of St. Petri, and without being bombarded.

The Duke Infante, President of the Regency, has been in company with some other dignitaries in company have been robbed on the high way by 7 persons.

After from Gibraltar of the 1st ult. says: "The Constitutional affairs of Spain are nearly at an end. The French have the possession of the Trucadero, Castle of St. Petri, and Isle of Leon, and we have a report that Cadix has capitulated."

By an express, arrived this forenoon from Port St. Mary's, it appears that the King and Royal Family of Spain, landed yesterday forenoon.

The Boston Centinel publishes the following extracts of a letter from Gibraltar, dated Oct. 20: "We have important news. The gates of the Temple of Janus are again closed, which has been declared, and Ferdinand is in liberty. Every thing at St. Mary was in custody. The King was received by his cousin the Duke D'Angoulême, and the Duke Del Infantado, President of the Regency, with every demonstration of joy and festivity. He set off immediately for Madrid. We hear nothing of the fate of the Cortes. Many of them most, it is said, emigrate to the north, and some to the south. The French will allow them no asylum on board the fleet. The Regalists are all on tip-toe, and are extremely vindictive, and the constitutionalists are much chafed. The former expect the commencement of a new era in the affairs of Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

Spain, with a revival of commerce, manufactures, the arts, and agriculture, and also, the restoration, with French aid of the colonies. All the fortresses which have held out, were only waiting the arrival of French troops, the most unhappy men in this state of things, are the infuriated French emigrants, who have taken an active part in the hopeless war. Almost every man of reflection, whatever his political feelings, and who has had an acquaintance with the dispositions and habits of the great mass of the Spanish nation, has calculated the war would end with the campaign, and that there was not the smallest chance of the existence of any successful opposition to the French. But these people have made different calculations, and their disappointment has been great. They must fly to America or England. It is calculated that nine-tenths of the Spanish people, including the peasantry, have seen with pleasure and order of things established by the bayonet, patrolled by the sword. It is thought that neither Despotism nor the Inquisition will be re-established in Spain, and that Ferdinand will be advised to give a Constitution to the people of the age. The terms granted to Cadix are not yet known, and it is not thought that the British government has had any agency in the result. The same opinion is supposed to have been the ultimatum, did not a live here until the day after the surrender."

may then be felt. At four and a half, these mark are just visible above the eye and the cavity is very conspicuous. At five years old, the horse has his remaining colic teeth, and his tushes appear white, small, and near about which is observed a small circle of young teeth, and the black has arrived at, for very near upper extremity of the corner. At seven, the middle all up. Between the seventh and eighth year, all the are filled up, the black bath vanished, and the is then said to be aged, his mouth full.

At that time forward, the of the horse can only be guessed from certain indications, these guesses are usually with considerable accuracy experienced people. If his teeth close, and meet evenly, his gums appear plump, you conclude he is not yet nine old. At that age, and as advances, his teeth become hard and full, and appears to him of the shrinking and thinning of the gums. The tushes blunt at nine but at ten old, the cavity or channel inside in the upper tushes, the teeth will be very black, and foul, but will appear even; at twelve, upper jaw teeth will over the others; at thirteen and four, his tushes will be eighths to the stumps, or long and foul, like those of an old horse. Besides those exhibiting the mouth, nature ever shows variety of signals, denoting the approach of old age, decay, throughout the bodies of animals. After a horse past his prime, a hollowness temples will be perceived; muscles will be continually something of their plumpness, and his hair, that gloss and shine, which is the characteristic of youth and prime, will look faded, or entirely lose its luster in various parts. In proportion to the excess of these appearances, will be the horse's

At that time forward, the of the horse can only be guessed from certain indications, these guesses are usually with considerable accuracy experienced people. If his teeth close, and meet evenly, his gums appear plump, you conclude he is not yet nine old. At that age, and as advances, his teeth become hard and full, and appears to him of the shrinking and thinning of the gums. The tushes blunt at nine but at ten old, the cavity or channel inside in the upper tushes, the teeth will be very black, and foul, but will appear even; at twelve, upper jaw teeth will over the others; at thirteen and four, his tushes will be eighths to the stumps, or long and foul, like those of an old horse

THE BUTTERMILK.

I've seen at night a starless sky,
A heaven as blue as beauty's eye;
But long ere such destruction's form
Was riding on the whirlwind storm.

I've seen the bark with every sail
Rue moodily on the swelling gale;
I've turned again when the white wave
Was wreathing o'er her cold grave.

I've seen the gay and laughing bride,
With light and splendour at her side;
I've look'd again—the wedding ring
Was on a death-bed's cold covering.

I've seen the hero's crest and brow
In death's white shroud, and dark thought
Has dimm'd the blue and glowing coronal.

And still I see—a standing scene—
And still I see—a standing scene—
The world's a dream, and all that's here
Is but a shadow on the air.

How many a heart has been so true,
And how many a heart has been so true,
And how many a heart has been so true,
And how many a heart has been so true.

THE SECRET.

In a lady's heart once a secret was Laid down, and it was a secret was Laid down, and it was a secret was Laid down, and it was a secret was.

But she looked gruff on the subject
And gave it.
In chains to the teeth of a snoring's
And gave it.
Should the motive attempt an elopement,
And gave it.
By giving the lips and not a living line,
And gave it.

Two words and she settled: Sir Honor
And gave it.
Tremble and tremble, but
And gave it.
When right to his lips, Secret suddenly
And gave it.

And the teeth in a pet, "We'll be even
And gave it.
And they but very heard above and be
And gave it.
But the lips in that instant were blushed
And gave it.
And they but very heard above and be
And gave it.

A GRAMMATICAL QUESTION.

Said Anne's perception, "A lady's
And gave it.
But tell me if common or proper," he
And gave it.
With civil permission and eye-lids
And gave it.
"The best of common and proper," he
And gave it.

TRUE CONSTANCY.

True constancy will always prove
The best of common and proper," he
And gave it.
Sixteen suns, and a moon, and a
And gave it.
Over the head of the union, Mary's
And gave it.
Which she was wed by Henry
And gave it.
Riven. They were in the
And gave it.
And gave it.

The injuries of their suffering country
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

And such scenes as these the brave
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

The setting sun had just tinged the
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

But Anne passed through many trying
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

But Anne passed through many trying
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

But Anne passed through many trying
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

But Anne passed through many trying
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

But Anne passed through many trying
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

But Anne passed through many trying
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

But Anne passed through many trying
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

winks at this pretty damsel, I
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

We were roused from our
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

The old lady then told the
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

The old lady then told the
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

The old lady then told the
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

The old lady then told the
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

The old lady then told the
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

of impietously breaking the Sab-
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

A Touch of the Sublime.—A
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

Now, sir, you I implore to en-
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

Advantages of an empty purse.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

A lady being asked, how she
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

The wife of a noble Venetian
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

Tobacco was first brought into
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

ON HUMANITY.—[Continued.]
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

That it is the absolute duty of
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

"A sparrow falleth not
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

Those reflections, Messrs.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

Advantages of an empty purse.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

A lady being asked, how she
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

The wife of a noble Venetian
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

Tobacco was first brought into
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.

ON HUMANITY.—[Continued.]
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.
And gave it.