MISCELLANY.

THE CALM SEA.

The gentle breeze that curls the sea
Has slowly died away,
And stretch'd in glassy stillness now,
The wide blue waters lay.
The sea bird's cry was heard no more,
And soft as infant sleep
Was the holy calm that lay upon
The bosom of the deep.

But yesterday the storm had raged,
And shook the mighty ocean,
The flash'd about its foamy waves,
And howed in wild commotion;
Till you might have thought no storm
Had ever touch'd its breast,
As it lay a mighty emblem of Majesty and rest.

Is there such calm for mortal breasts
When storms have once been there,
When passion's wild has swept along,
And hear's corroding care?
When guilt has once disturbed the soul,
And mark'd it with its stain,
Can tranquil softness of the heart
Be ever ours again?

Yes—but it is not of this world,
The peace that must be sought,
And with the soul's repentant tears
It can alone be bought:
Then as it meekly bows to kiss
Affliction's chastening rod,
The broken and the contrite heart
Shall feel the peace of God.

CULTURE OF THE VINE.

Valuable practical information and hints on the culture of the Vine, from the author of "Coxe on Fruit Trees."
Baltimore, July 22, 1838.
J. S. Skinner, Esq. Sir:—The culture of the vine has become so important to the health, morals and prosperity of our country, that I cheerfully comply with the wishes of some respectable friends, by communicating to you the result of numerous experiments, made under my own observation, in grafting various kinds of vine, and in the propagation of the more vigorous stocks of cultivated vines, or on the native vines of our fields, or transplanted native vines, removed from our hedge rows into our gardens, at the present time, and affording the process in an extremely simple and easy manner, as I can learn from inspection of the most approved English and French writers, and from inquiry of intelligent foreigners, is not practiced in Europe. It is performed by inserting a scion, of the usual size for wedges, the scion, when firmly banded, will be retained in its place by the pressure of the stone, after the wedge has been withdrawn or cut off. The time for engraving is to the same as for the apple—about the first to the 10th of April in this state. In two or three weeks the bud will sprout. One only must be permitted to grow; it must be trained to a stake, and kept pruned of lateral shoots. In a good soil it will grow ten to twelve feet the first year; after this it may be cut down to two or three feet, or trained to a trellis, according to its strength. They invariably bear fruit the second year, and frequently will produce one or more bunches the first year. This, however, should not be permitted, except from a wish to ascertain the quality of the fruit. It is now a time, according to the first attempt of an intelligent neighbor in this mode of engraving, was exhibited to me, after repeated failures of the ordinary mode of engraving above the surface, with the aid of clay and composition, I had experienced similar failures in my own experiments, owing to a failure in the greater flow of sap in my climate. I have now growths of at least ten feet from grafts of this spring, exhibiting a luxuriant growth of a single bunch of grapes. When the stock is sufficiently large, two scions may be inserted, and a single stock, or one of them may be laid down a training, about six inches under the surface, to form another vine, which the second year will be nearly equal in size, and productive to the parent vine. From the facility with which this operation is performed, and the rapidity with which it creates in the bearing, it will be seen to change any number of vines from unproductive and inferior kinds, to such as may be adapted to the soil, climate and object of the cultivator. Foreign and tender kinds may be speedily acclimated, and an early diffusion of the finer kinds through our extensive country may be accomplished, wherever native stock may be found.

I believe this mode of engraving will be new to the greater portion of our readers. It is sanctioned by the Abbe Rozier, by La Ponce, Quintrepe, by Miller and Forsyth, all of whom I have consulted—and a highly intelligent friend, a native of France, possessing large estates in that country, and in the United States, assured me, after careful inspection of my vines, that it was perfectly new to him, and would encourage him to introduce it in his extensive plans of improvement, to which he is devoting much of his ample means.
I am respectfully and truly, your friend and obedient servant
WM. COXE.

THE WHEAT CROP.

The Philadelphia press current, says, information respecting this important crop, from various sections of the country, and on which it is believed implicit reliance can be placed, gives the following result.

Virginia.—Middle and lower sections, and particularly on the rivers, the crop has suffered from rust, and it is estimated from one fourth to one third short of a fair average. In the upper districts an abundant crop, well secured.

Maryland.—On the eastern shore and lower counties of the western, the crops have suffered from rust and mildew and prove materially short of an average; but in the upper western counties, the crop is considered abundant, and well secured.

Delaware.—In New Castle county there is a fair average crop. In Kent and Sussex not exceeding half a crop.

Pennsylvania.—In the eastern sections, (extending to Blue Ridge,) the crop is in general abundant, and of fine quality, and with the exception of Northampton county, (where it was suffered to remain too long in the field,) well secured. In the middle section, or Susquehanna county, and more particularly in Millin, Centre, and Huntingdon counties, very serious injury has been sustained by rust, and the crop reduced one third to one half. On the west a north branches, the injury is believed not to be so serious.

New Jersey.—In the upper counties of New Jersey, the only important wheat districts of that state, the crops are fair, but not secured without some injury.

New York.—In the eastern district fair average crops have been made. In the middle districts some injury has been sustained by rust, and some by wet weather, but there is nearly a fair average crop. In the important western district, very serious injury has been sustained, the extent of which is yet uncertain, as much grain was still exposed at last dates to unfavorable weather. It is apprehended the crop in that district will be diminished full one third.

Connecticut.—In the small wheat districts of this state, the crop has sustained injury, but the extent not sufficiently ascertained. In the states east of Connecticut no wheat of importance is raised.

On the whole it is safe to conclude that notwithstanding the favorable prospect in last month, for a superabundant crop, in the wheat districts of the United States on the Atlantic, there is barely an average crop. It is worthy of remark, that in the great valley between the north and south mountains, extending from New Jersey through Pennsylvania and Maryland, and into Virginia; the crop of wheat has not this year been subject to the injuries sustained in a greater or less degree in the other districts, and has proved uncommonly abundant, of fine quality and in general well secured, which compensates in a great measure for the deficiencies noted in other quarters.

The latest advices from lower Canada, lead us to apprehend, that crops there, have sustained serious injury, and will prove materially short of an average.

The property on board the Topaz, (robbed by the Pirates), supposed to be $110,000, and the vessel valued at $10,000, are fully insured. We learn that there is insurance on property amounting to $180,000, at different offices in this city; making an over-insurance of $40,000—less property having probably been shipped than had been expected.—Bost. Bulletin.

We understand, says the Philadelphia Gazette, the proprietors of the Union Line of Steamboats and stages, have determined upon running a line upon the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal route. This arrangement will go into effect immediately on the completion of that great national work. From the long experience and enterprising of the gentlemen engaged in that concern we anticipate a good and efficient line.

The new sloop of war Fairfield, Capt. Parker, has hauled out on the Navy Yard, New York and is to sail immediately for the Mediterranean.—The Hudson, frigate, is ready for sea, bound to Brazil. The Erie sloop of war, is fitting for the West India station. Balt. Gaz.

Spontaneous combustion.—Last week, at Mount Pleasant, a piece of canvas, 40 yards in length, newly painted with white lead and oil, exposed to the sun until a shower of rain approached, was rolled up and put under cover. The next morning it was found smoking, and the whole excepting about one yard, burnt to a cinder, with a hole through the bottom of a wagon.

ARRIVAL OF THE SHARK.
The U. S. sloop Shark, which arrived last evening, fell in yesterday morning with the Br. barque Lady of the Lake, from Liverpool, lying too at Shark River, about 25 miles S. of Sandy Hook, which it is said had been engaged for twenty four hours in landing passengers and baggage on the Jessie schooner. The Shark put on board Lieut. Ellison and fourteen men, and ordered her into this port, where she arrived last evening accompanied by the revenue cutter, Captain Canby, which went down early yesterday morning in pursuit of her. The Lady of the Lake cleared at Liverpool for Philadelphia, with nearly 200 passengers.

It does not appear how many passengers were actually landed. There is no manner of doubt that foreigners are constantly smuggled into this state, a subject we have frequently dwelt upon. We take it for granted that the "baggage" thus put on shore, did not consist merely of the wearing apparel of the new comers.

The Shark is commanded by Isaac McKee, Esq., and arrived in thirty days from Tampa, and seven from Havana, having touched at Pensacola with $70,000 in specie.

From the Baltimore Gazette.

Extract of a letter from on Board the U. S. Schooner Porpoise, between the Morca and Serigo, dated, 22d May, 1838.

"A few days after we were anchored at Smyrna, I went ashore as usual, to see how the place looked; I found it very dirty, the streets narrow and almost continually shaded—I suppose there are many places in it that the sun has not shone upon for the last ten years; the houses being so very close that the sun cannot penetrate into the streets.—The buildings are generally of wood, low, and meanly built, although there are some houses which bear the marks of civilization, but they are like angles' visits. 'Few, and far between'—The Barracks, however, for the Army, are superior to any thing of the kind, that I ever saw, being very convenient, and bearing some marks of elegance about them.—I went to the burial ground, where the tomb stones and Cypress trees are thicker than I have ever seen or heard of.—The only way to distinguish what individual is buried there, is by the imitation of the head dress of the different nations, which is carved on the top of the stone.—A Turk for a Turk, and the other head dresses of the Jews, and Armenians, and Greeks.—Although the English, French, and Greeks, are at war with the Turks, yet the ships of the two former, are now lying at Smyrna, and hoist their flags, & the Greeks are nearly as thick as the Turks.—I do not know the reason of its being allowed, but it is so.—On the 14th, weighed anchor and went to Vourla, 30 miles distant, for the purpose of taking in our water; and, on the 17th, received intelligence from an English man of war brig direct from the Island of Hydra, that there was a plague existing in that Island.—A short time before the Porpoise came into the Archipelago, the Lexington gave chase to a Piratical original, and a few days since, she could not follow, and sent her boat on board, when she fired on them. At the same time telling them that they were pirates, and that they did not care.—That, as to the larger vessels, the could out-run them, and as to the smaller ones, they feared none of them.—You may depend upon it, we shall have some hot work here before we return, for that is a very impudent fellow, and if we come in contact with him, we shall take him—he mounts 10 brass guns, and has 80 men, whereas we mount 12 guns, and all perhaps larger than any of his."

An affecting case of Suicide occurred a few days since, on the farm of a gentleman a few miles from this city. It appears that the wife of his Manager had been sick some months previously, and after having travelled among her friends, returned to her family apparently restored to perfect health, but evincing occasionally, a slight alteration of mind, not sufficiently important to excite any apprehensions of very serious consequences. Unfortunately, the result proved fatally otherwise, having been left alone in her dwelling, she took opportunity of obtaining a large horse pistol, which it is supposed she loaded with powder to the muzzle, and blew her head entirely off, splitting the breast in a most shocking manner. She has left several small children, and was a highly respectable and good woman.—Balt. Gazette.

A man, having the appearance of a gentleman, called on one of the late hot days, at a respectable inn in Albany, for a glass of gin, and after having drunk the same, shoved towards the bar keeper 3 cents, who informed that he sold gin like that at 6 cents. Why, said the man, "tis extortion. We get the best gin to the west for 3 cents, and anti-masonic for a cent and a half a glass."

We understand, says the National Intelligencer of Saturday, that there are not less than one hundred citizens from the Eastern and Middle States, attending in this city as hiders for those portions of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, which are ready to be put under contract.

The new Presbyterian Meeting House in Ripley, Chataque county, N. Y. nearly three-fourths finished, was struck with lightning on Wednesday night last week, and there being a large quantity of shavings in the building, it took fire, and was almost instantly enveloped in flames, and soon burnt down. The loss of the building is between 12 and 13000 dollars, which is the more severely felt as it falls upon a few individuals, who had engaged to build the house, and were to be remunerated by the sale of the pews. About $200 worth of tools, clothing, &c. belonging to the joiners was also burnt.

The steam boat North America left New York on Saturday for Albany with 500 passengers; and, after all intermediate stoppages and changes, actually landed 380 on her arrival at that place.

The number of deaths in Philadelphia, for the week ending the 9th inst. was 99, one of which was with the small pox.

True Pith.—The force of language is apt to be much injured by the multitude of words: The following is not only entirely free from that fault, but on the other hand may be considered as a rare specimen of the laconic and pithy style.

A respectable farmer, not forty miles from this place, has the singular happy talent of not saying a word too much. A young man wishing to obtain his consent to marry his daughter, called upon him one day when he happened to be in the field ploughing with his oxen. It was past all doubt a fearful matter for a diffident man to breach, and the hesitating lover, after running a parallel with the furrow several times round the field, as easy with all his courage to utter the important question, at last stammered out—I—I've been thinking, Mr.—that—that—as how—I—I—should be gl—gl—glad to—to—to m—m—mar—marry your daughter.

THE CHILDE'S HISTORY OF THE PERUVIAN.
We are sorry to see from the following intelligence, that the disagreement between Colombia and Peru are about to issue in war. It is not easy to understand the politics of our South American neighbors; but we are prone to think that the movements of the Peruvian leaders are directed less by love of the country than by personal ambition. The Peruvians must retard the progress of the respective countries, and render their natural resources of little account to the purposes of commerce.

From the New York Jour. of Com.
IMPORTANT FROM COLOMBIA.

By the brig Bunker Hill, Steamer, arrived this morning in the short passage of 17 days from Callagueta, we have received authentic papers to the 20th July. It will be seen by the following proclamation of Bolivar, that a war is on the point of breaking out between Colombia and Peru: Proclamation of Simon Bolivar to the People of the South.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS:—The perfidy of the government of Peru has passed all limits and broken all the rights of the citizens of Bolivia and Colombia. After the thousand outrages suffered by heroic patience, we have been obliged to repel injustice with force. The Peruvian troops have entered the centre of Bolivia, without any cause for it. Such a dishonorable conduct serves to demonstrate to us what we must expect from a government which does not recognize the laws of nations, nor the gratitude which is due to friends and brothers. To refer to the catalogue of the crimes of the Peruvian government would be too much; and we could not hear it without a loud cry of revenge; but I do not wish to excite your indignation, nor to renew the pain of your wounds. I invite you only to arise against these wretches who already have violated the soil of the Republic, and yet intend to profane the bosom of the mother of heroes. Let the Colombians of the south be armed—let them fly to the frontiers of Peru, and wait there the hour of retribution. My presence among you will be the token for COMBAT. Signed BOLIVAR.

Bogota, July 3d.
The occasion of Bolivar's proclamation will be seen in the following: From the commander in chief of the Armies of the South to His Excellency the Secretary of State and Minister of War:—

By the enclosed newspaper of Lima, which I have the honor to send to your Excellency, you will know the consequence of the mutiny of Chiquisaca and of the lamentable misfortune of his Excellency, the president of Bolivia.—The army of the South, under the orders of General Gamara, was on the 2d of May, marching to invade that public, and by the enclosed copy of a manifesto of the commanding Gen. of Department of the Guayaquil, your Excellency will see that the army of the North of Peru, commanded by General Lamer in person, was to open the campaign against this part of the Republic, at the same time the fleet was to blockade Guayaquil. However irregular and scandalous the conduct of the government of Peru may seem, I have not hesitated one moment in believing that it is an attempt in earnest upon our country. Besides that in Peru there is no moral principle, nor regard to the laws generally received. This proceeding with regard to Bolivar, gives reason to fear all which can be done by an insidious rival, who, leaning on the law of nations, commits acts which they & all the world condemn. In consequence of all this, and expecting every day to open the campaign, I am about to take all the measures that my zeal shall suggest, for the service of my country, and the glory of His Excellency, the Liberator, by which Colombia may get new laurels, and her enemies be made always to lament in tears of blood, the temerity of becoming the antagonists of the conquerors of their conquerors.

I am your Excellency's most obedient servant.
Juan Jose Flores.

On the 27th of June a naval action took place between the Russians and Turks, before Anapo, in which the Turkish flotilla was destroyed, with the loss of 1200 men and six standards and Anapo had been bombarded fourteen days.

German papers to the 17th furnish accounts from the East, in which it is stated that the fort of Buila had been taken by the Russians on the 29th of May; the resistance was very obstinate, as the Turks would neither give or take quarter.

Breakwater.—The Delay. Journal of the 12th instant, informs us That "the commissioners to locate the Breakwater, arrived at Lewes August 1st, and entered on the duties assigned them at once. They have a steam-boll to facilitate their operation," and will be occupied probably for two or three weeks."

Remarkable Accident.—Mr. Theo.
McClentick, of Ware Village, last week became the victim of a most singular accident. Being engaged in conversation with a friend in a stone he raised his foot to rest it upon a low platform where a scythe lately sharpened had been placed against the wall in a leaning position. Unfortunately his foot came in contact with the projecting heel of the scythe: the instrument was thus thrust forward, and in descending, the point passed across his throat, making a deep cut, and completely severing the jugular vein.
Medical aid was procured but proved ineffectual, and the unfortunate man survived this remarkable accident but a short time.
