We lately saw in some of the papers that Mr. Jacob Long Luttle had petitorned one of the Legerlatures for liberty to throw away the Long' from its mane; thus verifying the correctness of the poet's idea:—
"Man wants but Lattle here below,
Nor wants that little Long."

Nor wants that little Long."

A country clergyman was loasting of laving been educated at two colleges. "You resided use," said an aged divine, "of an instance! knew, of a cair that sucked two cows." "What was the consequence?" said a third person.—"Why sir," replied the old gentleman, very gravely, "the consequence was, that he was a very great cair."
